Ever wonder how the whole thing comes together? Wanna know all the dirty little secrets of running your own guerilla knit magazine? Well now you can follow twistcollective on Twitter! Hear what we're thinking, what we're working on as the issues gel, and also see how we waste our time when we should be working, see the stuff in the big wide knit and design world we like, and know the names we give to our own sweaters. Fun links, daily doses of fashion, yarn bits, and everything in between. Just add twistcollective to your Twitter feed and you'll be way inside.
