

Hi there. It's Kate (for once). Julia and I were talking last night about Fiona Ellis' Paula and how it's the prettiest pattern she's done for us yet... though Bonnie is neck and neck with it for me. We were wondering what it might look like in a color. The Valley Yarns Stockbridge comes in lots of great colors, so I thought I'd show you the possibilities.

First, the original, in Natural:

And here are some colors:

deep red

wild rose

camel

stone blue

terra cotta

olive

navy

soft grape

kiwi

dark green

deep purple

periwinkle

Didn't even show you their Red Purple which is gorgeous but, sadly, backordered...

Ooh. Wonder what it would look like in a semi solid! Sadly that's beyond my photo editing skills. How would you want your Paula?
