

There's a fall photoshoot happening on the 19th and I have a sweater that needs to be there... Errr, rather, I have a pile of hanks of yarn and an idea. I've been tweeting about this and last night asked if anyone was nuts enough to knit a sweater in 2 weeks with me. There appear to be some takers. So here's the idea:

- It can be a sweater for you, your kid, your baby, your cat. Doesn't matter.
- We're knitting for the fame and the glory and the love of knitting and having an FO.
- Start a sweater... or even finish a sweater that's lingered much too long.
- I have to ship on the 16th to be safe, but you all can have until the 22nd.
- Post your progress here (we love photos!) Or tweet with the hashtag #2wksweater
