

Purl Two Together Through Back Loops (p2tog tbl)

This is a left-leaning decrease.

It looks the same on the right side as ssk, ssk variation, k2tog tbl, and sl1, k1, pss0.

It mirrors with the right-leaning decrease p2tog.

Insert the right needle into the back loops of two stitches at once and purl.

Decrease How Tos:

Right-Leaning Single Decreases

Knit Two Together

Purl Two Together

Left-Leaning Single Decreases

Slip, Slip, Knit

[Slip, Slip, Knit
Variation](#)

Slip, Slip, Purl

[Knit Two Together
Through the Back
Loops](#)

[Purl Two Together
Through the Back
Loops](#)

[Slip, Knit, Pass
Slipped Stitch Over](#)

Right-Leaning Double Decreases

Knit Three Together

Purl Three Together

Left-Leaning Double Decreases

Slip, Slip, Slip, Knit

Slip, Slip, Slip, Purl

Slip One, Knit Two Together, Pass Slipped Stitch Over

Centered Double Decrease

Centered Double Decrease

Read the full article, Decoding Decreases

Download a handy pdf with Decoding Decreases and instructions for all of the decreases.

Sandi Rosner is a knitter who wears many hats: designer, technical editor, writer and teacher. She loves the little details that elevate a knitting project from homemade to handmade. Follow Sandi's blog at knittinginwinecountry.blogspot.com.